Retain a golden thread of information

Building owners must now demonstrate compliance with matters of fire and structural safety.

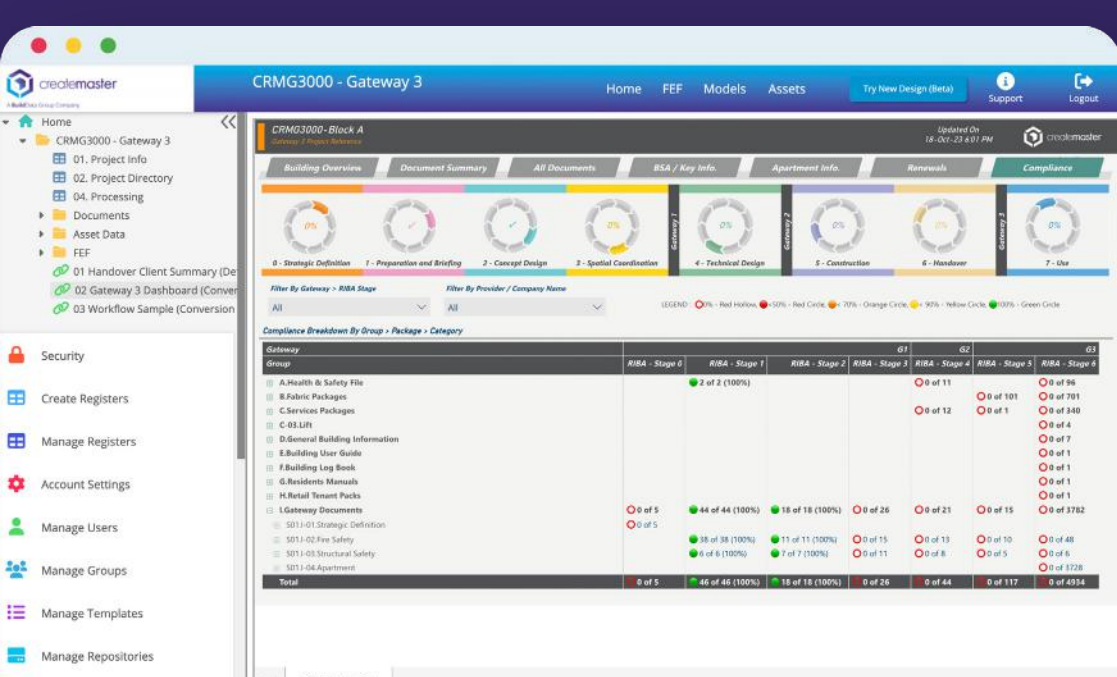

A single platform for building information is the fastest way to submit Key Building Information and Building Safety Cases.

Your portfolio will be under your complete control

As property portfolios grow, information management challenges can become more difficult to manage.

Utilise a standard digital platform to deliver structured information consistently and prevent wasting resources and addressing data quality issues later.

Speed up submissions for key building information and safety cases with data in one platform
